Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK.
F. D. Daniel—We are authorized to announce F. D. Daniel as a candidate for re-election for Circuit Court Clerk at the ensuing August election.

FOR REGISTER.

James A. Grant—We are authorized to announce James A. Grant as a candidate for Register for Montgomery county, at the ensuing August election.

Notice to Subscribers.

All persons indebted to the CHRONICLE for subscription are earnestly requested to settle same at once, so that accounts may be closed. Either Brandon & Barksdale, or W. P. Titus will receipt for same.

J. B. Martin, St. Louis, is here.
J. Browder, Fulton, Ky., is in the city.

Esq. Raynham was in the city yesterday.

J. P. Bennett, Nortonville, is in the city.

Robt. Mainhardt has returned from the East.

Collin Roberts, of the south side, was in the city yesterday.

C. V. Rhea and R. C. Judge, Louisville, are at the Arlington.

Wanted—Immediately at this office a Montgomery county map. A fair price will be paid for it.

Thos. M. Williams, one of Port Royal's clever merchants, was in the city yesterday and left a good order for the LEAF-CHRONICLE presses.

Chas. H. Turner, who has been clerking on the steamer B. S. Rhea for four and a half years, has resigned his position and is stopping in the city for a few days.

T. S. M. Cunningham returned Tuesday morning from Philadelphia, having finished his first course in the College of Pharmacy. He has resumed his place with Askew & Edwards.

A marriage just over the line in Kentucky, when one of Todd's accomplished daughters and a prominent and talented gentleman of Montgomery, well known in the city, will be the contracting parties, is on the tapis.

Allow us to remark again that the court-house needs painting badly—very badly, indeed. Let some patriotic magistrate at the April term of the court introduce a resolution to have this done and win the lasting gratitude of his people.

Ed. G. Gurney, trainer at Buena Ventura last season, left a day or two since for Gallatin, Tenn., where he will have charge of the fliers on Cumberland Valley Stock farm, Lady Washington and her sister, said to be more promising than the Lady.

Mrs. W. W. Davis, of Port Royal, died at her home yesterday morning at an early hour. She was about twenty-eight years old, a sister of Dr. and D. D. Elliott, and a good woman. The interment was at the home of her father, George Elliott.

Complaint is being made that a couple of negroes cruelly whipped a poor old mule the other day at the mill which is being made for Chas. W. Anglen's new house on Franklin street. A man who has no more feeling than to beat a mule with a spade should be jailed.

Miss Harriet Sullivan, of Evansville, Ind., has accepted a position of stenographer and type-writer in the law office of Judge Smith on Second street. This is a movement in the right direction for no one can do such work better than a woman, and the general opinion is that they do better work of that sort than men. Miss Sullivan is a bright intelligent young lady and we hope to see other offices giving the young women a chance to this work which they can do so well.

PORT ROYAL.

A Newsy Letter From the Banks of the Raging Red.

The last paragraph in Laughing Water's last communication—"Doubtless blessed is he who can drink the wine without the dregs, and enjoy the moon without the night"—had no reference to the preceding paragraph concerning Rev. W. S. Adams. —ED. LEAF-CHRONICLE.

Rev. Weston Bruner was not able to fill his appointment at Harmony Saturday and Sunday, and sent as a substitute, Rev. A. L. Vaughn, one of the Bethel students. His sermon Sunday was especially edifying. Subject—"Every man to his work."

The neighbors were entertained Saturday night by a little performance at the school house, near W. A. Bobbett's. The proprietor, M. A. Goslin, of Maury county, is a Confederate soldier, who lost his right foot in the second battle of Manassas. He makes no charges for his performances, but gratefully receives any contribution from his students.

W. N. Gaines' family spent Sunday at W. A. Bobbett's. —W. D. Fort and family, of Robertson county, also spent the same day with Mrs. R. W. Hamlett. —Mrs. M. C. Norfleet spent Saturday night at S. H. Williams', and attended church from there Sunday. —Ross Bourne's four children were sick several days this week, and it was thought Saturday that Jessie, the youngest, had measles, which later developed a case of la grippe. —W. D. Cotter is building an addition to his house.

E. L. Fort, Sr., lost a house by fire Sunday night. A negro by the name of Floyd Peck occupied the house, but was fortunate in saving most of his household goods.

A. J. Hamlett and Ernest Alley visited Rudolph Town Sunday. There are some attractive young ladies in that prosperous portion of our county, and the boys have not been slow to discover the fact. —Dr. James Ross, of Rossview, is spending several days at Uncle Felix Northington's.

In conclusion we congratulate the pure-hearted little LEAF of other days. Since attaining its majority, it has silently lain aside its boyhood garb and donned the full armor of manhood. TOBACCO LEAF-CHRONICLE. May it be the leading spirit of Clarksville's journalism, be the sincere wish of an humble contributor. L. W.

The Bending Works Situation.

H. J. Bradshaw, assistant engineer of the Louisville and Nashville road, located at Paris, Tenn., will arrive in the city tomorrow for the purpose of making a survey looking to the building of a side track for the use of the Bending works. Mr. McKesson has not yet fully decided what lot he will take for the Bending works site, but by to-morrow probably his plans will be made known. The enterprise is at last assuming shape, and when the work is once started Mr. McKesson says it will be pushed forward as quickly as possible. From signs on the horizon Clarksville will be pretty lively in a short while. It will only take a few weeks to put the Bending works in operation when once the start is made, and with the beginning of this enterprise business of all kinds will certainly receive an impetus, and will live up to the city considerably.

Quarterly Conference.

Notwithstanding the rain of last night, there was a good attendance upon Quarterly Conference at the Methodist church. Aside from electing delegates to the District Conference, nothing except the transaction of routine business was done.

B. W. Macrae, J. F. Couts, M. C. Pittman, S. B. Nichols and J. F. Wood were elected delegates to the District Conference to be held at Paducah on the 18th of April, with J. M. Bowling and W. B. Kincannon alternates. Jno. D. Moore is a delegate by virtue of his office.

Street Lights.

The LEAF-CHRONICLE has it reliably that the Electric Light Company will make a proposition to the Light Committee to-day for lighting the streets. It is pretty generally thought and is reliably authenticated that the company will want an increase of about $3.00 per light per month. The city now pays $4.00 per light, consequently $7.00 per light will be about the amount wanted. At that rate, counting twenty-eight lights for the city, it will cost the city government $2,352 per annum for street lights.

E. Glick has made some material improvement in the arrangement of his store that will add largely to the convenience of his lady customers, by transferring his carpet room to the first floor. He advertises a full line of new carpets, rugs, oilcloths and matings in new styles and at bottom prices. He and his attentive salesmen will take pleasure in showing these goods.

Bloch Bros. have a new advertisement in the LEAF-CHRONICLE this evening that will be especially interesting to the ladies. They are receiving a world of the newest and prettiest spring goods daily and it will be a treat to our lady friends to call and see the new styles.

A Few Hoofs and Horns From Uncle Josh.

To the Leaf-Chronicle.

You fellows change around so much of late that I am puzzled how to address this communication only as Mr. Editor.

We are having just now most any kind of weather we do not want. We think if we had a chance at that pesky fellow, John Dusty, who has been telling about the weather going to be cold and get colder, we would make him wish he was at the north pole for a while. Our wheat fields look like a sirocco had passed over them. Our young pigs and lambs are drawn up in knots no larger than quart bottles, and he says the cold weather has not come yet. It seems he is doing some right good guessing, but he don't know any more about it than I do. Verily, it looks that way just now. But we think no living man can say whether the crop will make anything or not. This killing it down to the ground may be its salvation and give a better crop than we have had for years.

Farming is just standing still; we can do nothing but get wood and make fires, while we wonder what next. We have had lots of high water, more than we have had since '82. Fences have been carried away after the tornado got done blowing them down. There is nothing left of them but the track of the worm. Our bottoms are full of water, which will make us late in the spring planting them. Should it be dry from May on we will have a short crop in tobacco and corn, and another one of that fellow's predictions will be true. We hope the weather will go back on its record, for we are like the Irishman whose mother told him he would die with his boots on, requested the sheriff when he went to be hung to let him pull them off to prove to her that she knew nothing about it.

The weather has dried up the hens from laying and eggs are getting scarce. We will have none now to sell to the candidates. As soon as it warms up the old woman will go to setting them in order to have chickens when the big meetings commence. It looks strange that big meetings, fried chickens, green apples and blackberry pies all come about the same time. Do you reckon there is a pre-arrangement by some people?

I heard at the postoffice the other day that there would be another marriage across the line next week. I could give the names I heard, but it might not be true and then I would have to answer to a big young man and a bigger brother for circulating false reports.

I could write you quite often what you editors call personals, but I have always made a rule never to say anything about my neighbors, especially if it was not good. I believe you editors can say just what you please about each other, call hard names, just anything you want to, meet, take a drink, and it's all right; nobody hurt.

Our community has but little sickness outside of colds and a few scattering cases of measles, all of which are doing well. No deaths, no marriages, no births.

Wishing the new combine much success and prosperity, and you may have the best paper the county has ever known, I am,

Yours shiveringly,

UNCLE JOSH.

Rural Spring, Tenn., March 9, '90.

To the Public.

I very much regret that anything I said should have been so misunderstood as to reflect on Mr. Gilbert, chairman of the street committee. Mr. Gilbert has never asked or received of me one cent of the wages paid me by the city for hauling or other work. If Mr. Sullivan asked me such a question I certainly misunderstood him. On Monday Mr. Sullivan called me from my team and asked me, as I thought, "What do you have for hauling rock and gravel on the street?" I thought he meant to ask me how much profit I thought there was in the work at present prices, when done by a contractor, and answered him about ten per cent. I had no thought that he connected Mr. Gilbert with the question in any way, and I had no thought or reference to him in my answer.

Both Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Sullivan have treated me like gentlemen, and this misunderstanding has given me a great deal of trouble.

PETER COBB.

Jno. W. Faxon & Co. call attention to-day in the LEAF-CHRONICLE to the Royal Insurance Company, of Liverpool, England, for which they are agents in this city. It is one of the strongest fire insurance companies doing business in Tennessee and is represented here by a good firm.

How do you like our new head? The TOBACCO LEAF-CHRONICLE will be a dandy as soon as we get it fully up to what we intend to make it, which shall be in the near future.

Guthrie, Ky. Items.

To the Tobacco Leaf-Chronicle: "The Irving Literary Club" met in the private parlors at Grant's Hotel last Tuesday evening. Dr. Harris, president; Miss M. Levy, vice-president; Miss Rogers, corresponding secretary; Chas. McMurtry, critic. The club was well attended by representative young people, was cordially entertained, and promises to become a pleasant feature in the social circle of Guthrie.

The change in the weather caused the death of several persons who had been in feeble health. Friday at 6 o'clock p. m. Mrs. Marion Worley died at her home on Bryant street. The same afternoon Miss Bettie Taylor, daughter of James Taylor, died of consumption at her father's home in Todd county. —Thos. Mimms, who has been ill with the prevailing epidemic cold, is not again quite well. —Mrs. Sallie Tallafiero, mother of Mrs. Thos. Mimms, who fell and injured her hip some weeks ago, is slowly improving. She has been removed from her home to that of Mr. Mimms, where she is carefully nursed and cared for. —Gilmer Meriwether, who has been spending several weeks with his people at Meriville, was to have gone South on Saturday. —Mrs. Alex Barker and children, after paying a visit to the old homestead at Meriville, have returned to their home near Louisville. The health of her mother, Mrs. Jas. Meriwether, is much improved. —Will Allen Dromgoole, of Nashville, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Ben. E. Kendall. —Wash Kendall is now in Waco, Texas, visiting his son's family. A new feature in the mercantile interest is the firm Warfield & Sadler, who have opened a house for the sale of farm machinery. They will occupy one of the handsome new brick stores built by McMurtry Bros. and Bryant, a block that would do honor even to Clarksville.

Dr. Harris and Mrs. Bettie Linebaugh each have flourishing schools. Better teachers there are none. —Mr. Balee will succeed Tom Norris as postmaster. Mr. Norris has been a most efficient, satisfactory and thoroughly reliable postmaster for eight years. May his successor prove as good. And no doubt he will, as he is well and favorably known at Guthrie. The Primary election for county officers was held at Guthrie on last Saturday. Comment would be vain.

Make a Mark.

The following paragraph is taken from the Nashville American: J. W. Barlow, Chief of the United States Engineering Corps stationed in this city, requests that people living along the banks of the Cumberland River from its source to its mouth, mark with some durable sign the height reached by the recent flood.

Col. O'Brien, the chief engineer of the I. & N. system, is expected in the city to-morrow, and will at once proceed over the line of the Dickson railroad as heretofore surveyed. This step is preliminary to beginning work on the road, we suppose. It will take Col. O'Brien several days to make this reconnaissance; he will be accompanied by one of the assistant surveyors who located the route. This will probably be Ed. Neblett, of Dickson county.

R. W. Roach gives notice through our columns to those indebted to him to come forward and pay. He means what he says and those owing him can govern themselves accordingly.

Miss Bessie H. Bedloe, of Burlington, Vt., had a disease of the scalp which caused her hair to become very harsh and dry and to fall so freely she scarcely dared comb it. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave her a healthy scalp, and made the hair beautifully thick and glossy. m12 1w d.

Sickness Among Children.

Its cause is undoubtedly to be found in the way they are fed, and the neglect of their medical treatment. Many mothers are strong in their belief of the good state of health of their little ones, and it is only when sickness in a mild or strong form comes upon them that the mother fully realizes the mistake of her over-confidence, and thus unwittingly brings painful suffering to her child and uneasiness and trouble to her own heart. To prevent such a state of affairs give your children Dr. Winchell's Teething; as a curative for diseases common children, it has no equal—a trial of one bottle proves it.
